SHOCKA HUSTLEMANE, is an upcoming artist from East Tennessee with a new modern style of country-rap music. He is known for building trucks, mud bogging, bringing energy to shows, grinding to make the impossible happen, and overall living like a true Tennessee redneck. He prides himself in preserving culture and heritage and he makes it his primary goal to represent for anybody living this lifestyle who needs a voice. One of his most well known quotes is "We ain't scared to go out in a wall of gunfire protecting these women and kids!". SHOCKA HUSTLEMANE is the upcoming underdog, with a strong bite!
